DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the first paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall contain a written description of the invention, and of the manner and process of making and using it, in such full, clear, concise, and exact terms as to enable any person skilled in the art to which it pertains, or with which it is most nearly connected, to make and use the same and shall set forth the best mode contemplated by the inventor of carrying out his invention.

2. Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, first paragraph, as failing to comply with the written description requirement. The claim(s) contains subject matter which was not described in the specification in such a way as to reasonably convey to one skilled in the relevant art that the inventor(s), at the time the application was filed, had possession of the claimed invention.

In claim 1, "said temperature threshold means consists of a single device" is not supported in the specification.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

1. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

2. Claims 1-11 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Pariseau (6,579,006). Pariseau discloses, in fig. 10, a temperature-indicating apparatus

Art Unit: 3754

10 adapted for use with a liquid container 104 and a lid 100 receivable at an upper portion of said container, said apparatus comprising recessed means 108 associated with a planar surface of said lid, said recessed means having temperature threshold means 10 for indicating the temperature of a liquid contacting said threshold means, relative to a threshold temperature; The temperature threshold means consists of a single device (thermochromic device) on which a chemical (thermochromic material) is formulated to change color when the liquid that contacts the threshold means reaches a threshold temperature). Said recessed means comprises a recess downwardly projecting from said plane or surface, and said threshold means is positioned in said recess. Said threshold means comprises a patch of temperature sensitive material secured to said recess. Said lid comprises means for releaseably securing said lid to the container and a drinking means. Said recessed means 108 is substantially tapered; therefore the lids are stackable.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments filed 10/2/06 have been fully considered but they are not persuasive.

Applicant argues that Pariseau does not teach a single device having a chemical formulated thereon, but Pariseau teaches multiple thermochromic devices.

However, that is not found convincing because Pariseau teaches (in fig. 10 and col. 8, lines 35-49), a single device 10 (a thermochromic device) having a chemical formulated thereon (layers of thermochromic material). Therefore, Pariseau teaches a single device having a multiple layers of thermochromic material, but not multiple thermochromic devices. Moreover, Applicant does not disclose the applicant's invention consisting a single device, but in the specification of the present application, page 5, lines 21-23 and page 6, lines 1-3, it discloses "the temperature indicating tab is a thin flat surface... a temperature sensitive substance or chemical has been absorbed onto a porous or permeable substrate. This substrate is then completely enclosed by thin, non-permeable layer of plastic ... There are several chemicals and/or substances that are temperature sensitive that could be used on the temperature-indicating tab." Applicant further argues that Pariseau does not teach the recess means configured so that the lid are stackable for shipping and storage. Pariseau teaches, in fig. 10, a recessed means 108 being tapered; therefore the lids are stackable for shipping and storage.

Conclusion

4. THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
